In Tel Aviv, six friends (gay, lesbian, straight, successful and not-so-successful) gather every year to watch the Universong competition. Like most viewers, they are appalled by the quality of the Israeli entry. In an attempt to cheer up the heartbroken Anat - whose marriage is sinking while her business is thriving - they record a pop song on a smartphone. But when one member of the group enters the video in next year's contest, the unlikely group is thrust into the spotlight as Israel's new entry. How will the old friends survive the cut-throat world of the pop-music business?

LOVE IS STRANGE

John Lithgow and Alfred Molina are magnificent in this topical and tender romance. After 39 years together, Ben and George are wed in New York under new marriage laws. Soon after, George is fired from his teaching job at a Catholic school; and the pair are forced to give up their comfortable lives.

TOM AT THE FARM

The fourth feature from wonder-kid director, Xavier Dolan (I KILLED MY MOTHER and HEARTBEATS, both at SFF in 2010). Dolan starts as a young man who attends the funeral of his boyfriend in rural Quebec, only to find himself trapped in a dangerous dance of lust and sadistic impulses with the deceased's brother.

WE ARE THE BEST!

Lukas Moodysson (director of Queer Screen favourite SHOW ME LOVE) returns with a boisterous, feel-good film about three 13-year old girls in early '80s Stockholm who are determined to start up a punk band despite their considerable absence of musical ability.

UKRAINE IS NOT A BROTHEL

This fascinating doco follows the members of FEMEN, the infamously topless female protestors of Ukraine - naked warriors against patriarchy. Such defiance has a price: the women tell of their horrific treatment at the hands of the authorities. The disturbing question, however, is just who controls their campaign?

GOD HELP THE GIRL

Directed by and featuring music from Belle and Sebastian's Stuart Murdoch, this is a coming-of-age story turned indie-pop musical. Troubled dreamer Eve, sensitive musician James and posh Cass sing and dance their way through the streets of Glasgow during what is bound to be the most idyllic summer of their lives.
